Dink Farmer is a candidate for Jailor of Lincoln county subject to the action of the Democratic party.

It is hardly probable that Governor McCreary will issue a stronger or more striking state paper during his four years term than his message to the legislature which was sent in to the Houses after they had organized Tuesday. He takes a forward position on every plank in the democratic platform, and if the general assembly will follow his recommendations some real progressive and beneficial legislation will be enacted at this session. Gov. McCreary is more than making good the highest expectations of his sincerest admirers. Strength to his arm.

The state was in debt just $200,000.75 when the republicans turned the offices at Frankfort over to the democrats the first of January. Quite a contrast to the million dollars which were in the treasury when Gov. Beckham handed the state government over to Gov. Willson and his associates four years ago. The moral is obvious.

Col. W. B. Haldeman of the Louisville Times, was appointed adjutant general by Gov. McCreary. No better selection could have been made, and we predict that the military department of the state will be placed on a higher plane than it has been for years.

The Harrodsburg Republican has changed its name to the Harrodsburg Leader. It was formerly the Harrodsburg Democrat. Now if its editor will change its politics back to good old democracy, which he left a few years back, we all may be happy yet, you bet.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN
This space is engaged by the Temperance Committee of Lincoln County.

A Catholic priest editor of the Watchman, a Catholic paper published in St. Louis, having received a copy of the Liquor Dealers Benevolent Association of Missouri has the following to say to those liquor men:

"We must be candid with those gentlemen. And candid compels us to tell them that they are the most despised class of men in this state and in every state in the union. Their business is disreputable and they are thoroughly disreputable themselves. For a half century the people have been devising means of getting rid of them. The saloon is a pitfall for the weak and a rendezvous for criminals. The saloon men have fostered crime and criminals from the day the first saloon was opened. It is regarded as disreputable to get into a saloon. It serves every base purpose and cannot serve any good purpose. If a man is sick he can get a stimulant in a pharmacy; if he merely wants a stimulant he can get in a saloon, but at the risk of drinking to excess and getting drunk. Drinking for stimulation is an American practice and the parent of all drunkenness. The saloon is an American abomination and there are none in Continental Europe where we would find models for ours.

"People will not vote for a saloon keeper for any office. The daughter of a saloon keeper is not regarded as a proper partner for a respectable young man. If a father was ever in the saloon business his children try to forget it and prevent, if possible, people from discovering it. It is unfortunate, then, the despised class of saloon men."

These are strong words and deserve thoughtful consideration on the part of every good citizen in America. There is no use of denying the fact that the saloon is the most audacious law breaker of the age. It is the arch destroyer of all that is dear to man. It is the enemy of the home, the state the church the souls of men and of God. Let every man in Lincoln county consider well what he does when he lends his influence or casts his vote to foster or perpetuate such an institution in our midst.

The following is taken from the Christian Evangelist, a religious paper published in St. Louis:

"One of the crying needs of our country is the enforcement of law. The talk that law cannot be carried out in the face of public sentiment is idle talk. Law is public sentiment defined, declared, and made official. Men who are in public office should regard nothing else as public sentiment. Where men try to enforce the law they usually find the people with them. The lack of the enforcement of law is due to those who have been entrusted with the public offices. They are to blame if a community is lawless. It is because they are weak, or cowardly, or faithful, or lawless themselves. It is time to place the responsibility for lawlessness where it rests and rests in a very large measure upon those who hold public office."

A WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZIMMER, of 223 S. Benton Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the doctor came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."
